

UCC - Customs Diagnostic

A health check of your customs handling in connection with UCC (new EU-wide customs legislation)

The UCC - Customs Diagnostic provides you with an overview of your customs handling quality.

The UCC Customs Diagnostic is focused around how your organization works with customs matters. KGH's experts make an AS-IS assessment of the current situation. This will assist your preparations for the upcoming changes in connection with the new customs legislation. A proactive approach can save both time and money.

The diagnostic has compliance focus. It assesses how compliant your operations are with regard to current legislation, which customs permits you currently have and their role and importance for your operations. It also makes an assessment of your business' current customs competence and where in the organization this knowledge resides.

KGH's UCC - Customs Diagnostic is a quick and efficient tool for identifying flaws requiring further attention. The diagnostic is carried out in a dialogue with representatives from your company. Afterwards, you get a written AS-IS assessment.

This is a quick way to gain an overview of your customs management and it's quality, in the context of your current business model.

Advantages of KGH's diagnostics

- Highlights whether you are compliant with the existing customs regulations
- Provides strengths and opportunities related to your current activities
- Indicates weaknesses and risks in your customs management
- Provides you with a good starting point for making plans to adapt to the UCC

How KGH can be of assistance

KGH's diagnostic will give you confirmation that your organization is compliant and handle customs efficiently. Otherwise KGH can help you to close any gaps identified.

Can you afford not to do a health check on how your business works with customs matters?

At KGH you find over 50 years of experience helping businesses simplifying customs.

Want to know more?

Contact us at: consulting@kghcustoms.com